Exposing conflict of interest and undue influence in industry responses to COVID19 and beyond

The COVID19 pandemic has shed light on unhealthy commodity industry tactics and partnerships with governments, CSOs and UN agencies and other stakeholders that challenge coherence in NCD policies and actions due to conflict of interest and potential for undue influence in policy development and implementation.

WHO Civil Society Working Group on NCDs presents a webinar that will zoom into unhealthy commodity industry practices during recent months, discuss lessons learnt and possible ways forward.
